These recordings were taken by an anonymous source inside of Patriot Front during August to December 2021. Unicorn Riot has produced transcript PDFs, MP3s and videos from this set of recordings. The transcripts and the Mp3s use the same set of timecodes. The main report on our website uses separate timecodes that match our videos, which are lightly edited to remove silence, with an additional introduction and credits.

The .mp3 files (as opposed to slightly shortened videos) represent the uncut documentation of these Patriot Front voice meetings. These uncut audio files have been altered as little as possible in the interests of source protection.

Accuracy of transcripts and speaker identities

Unicorn Riot has done our best to compile transcripts with the most accurate time stamps and speaker identifications possible. Due to the combination of machine transcription and extensive human labor, there may be occasional errors in speaker IDs indicated in transcripts. but we are confident that the vast majority of the speaker IDs and content are correct. Some transcript timestamps are incorrect due to unavoidable issues with using machine transcription at scale, however, the majority are accurate.

Please note that these recordings may include Patriot Front members whose voices were not identified by us. When we were unsure about a speaker's identity we have left that line in the transcript without an assigned name, which machine transcription services usually tag as 'Unknown'. Many Patriot Front members have been identified by researchers, activists and journalists by linking multiple pieces of evidence to online personas.

Thomas Rousseau 00:00

[Inaudible] and you know, have you been informed about that big hike going on that you can go to, what's, what's the plan there?

00:09

Yes, I definitely plan on making it to the hike, I've, uh, talked with a lot of other people in my state so far that's on this chat.

00:17

And uh I've also made some Florida connections recently because I, uh, travel there almost once a month.

00:23

So I've got that in the works.

00:28

I just sent off that thing [inaudible] so I'll be expecting a package soon.

00:32

I sent it off Monday to get some stickers and some other things, some patches and all that.

Thomas Rousseau 00:38

Very good. Very good. Very good. All right, John, North Carolina.

John NC 00:45

Alright, so since the last meeting I went on, I went out on my own, put up some promat in the local park. They have like a, like a community, like, bulletin board. So I put some of our, um, promat stuff up there. And then I stickered in um, you know, just some of the areas around the park like the light poles and whatnot. And then on the weekend, uh, went up to, uh, went up to western part of North Carolina with the fellas. We did the interview with Jesse. So that's when we interviewed him. Really great guy. And then we, uh, we did a couple banner drops, we did some stickering, we actually found a functional payphone, uh, where we were at that we made sure to put a Patriot Front sticker on. So shout out to um, Patrick for that, and yeah, that was, we did some stenciling, and that was pretty much it. It was a very successful um, very successful trip where we went, I don't know if I'm allowed to say the specific city. But it is a uh, antifa stronghold on the east coast. So we were very happy to be able to pull it off. We, safety was like the number one priority. It's a very hostile environment, uh, with the antifa crowd that's up there. So we did really, really well, timed everything great, uh. Marcus did a really good job organizing sort of the itinerary for that night, uh. So it couldn't have been any better. It was so successful. I think we're all dying to go back there again, um, as soon as possible. And I think it's actually scheduled in the coming weeks for us to go hit up that same, uh, city so that we can begin countering some of that antifa, uh, propaganda going on up there. So that's what's been going on since the last meeting.

Very good. Very good. All right, Johnny Idaho.

Johnny ID 02:33

Right. So sadly, due to lack of promat and other obligations, I haven't been able to do any activism. I have been working out to maintain physical form. And I am getting married this upcoming couple of weeks. So it's gonna be fantastic. Thank you. However, the lack of activism has caused me and a lot of my fellow Idahoans to have an itch. So what we're planning on doing is when we get promat, not only doing stuff, [inaudible]. Sorry, work call. Yeah, we also plan on hitting up Montana while we're at it, because we don't, I don't believe we have any Montana members, do we?

Thomas Rousseau 03:23

No, none currently.

Johnny ID 03:26

Right. So we're going to try to fix that. So we're going to be doing a big run through Montana. Coming up.

Thomas Rousseau 03:34

Very good. Very good. Alright. I would very much look forward to that. Keep me posted and maybe I'll have some suggestions. All right, Johnny Michigan. Johnny Michigan.

Johnny MI (Jon-Paul Struys) 03:56

Hey, what's going on?

Thomas Rousseau 03:58

Hello.

Johnny MI (Jon-Paul Struys) 03:59

Can everybody hear me?

Yes we can.

Johnny MI (Jon-Paul Struys) 04:01

So, uh, as, uh, Alan Michigan and Eric Michigan and Benjamin Michigan were saying, uh. We were, uh, uh, doing, uh, a few sticker run and stenciling stuff, um, this past weekend. Um. And, uh, um, I'm trying to get back into it more because I've been kind of, kind of getting rusty getting away from, um, uh, some of the like, my kind of local stuff we do. I always, I'm always excited to go to the big activist events but I, I have trouble fighting the, uh, blackpill fever. And so I, uh, I have a, a, I've been trying to kind of get over that and get back into the local, um, uh, activism. Uh, obviously looking forward to the, uh, particular, uh, big event we got planned, um. And that should make a little bit of a splash maybe, and then, uh, um, uh, potentially doing a, some kind of a campout with the guys here in Michigan. Um. And, uh, I did want to ask, uh, what is the next big, uh, national activist event?

Thomas Rousseau 05:17

Couldn't tell you, but, if you have received dates, you should be ready for those dates no matter what it is you will be doing or where it is you will be going. Well very good. Alright, Joseph.

Joseph IL 05:39

Due to certain weather conditions that Leo and I have felt I have not been able to sort of promat. But this coming weekend I'll be on vacation so where I'm going to be at is a rather touristy area, so I'll be able to do that.

Thomas Rousseau 05:52

Very good. Looking forward to that, and I hope you enjoy your vacation.

Joseph IL 05:56

Thank you. Otherwise, I've been actually getting into crypto and I got a little secret that I found out. So if anyone wants to get into that just talk to me later on but I'll save that for later.

Thomas Rousseau 06:07

All right. Next in line we have Kyle Missouri.

Kyle MO (Mitchell Wagner) 06:14

How's it going everybody? About two weeks ago, I did the Midwest hike that was organized by Carter Missouri. We had a pretty good turnout. We had a bunch of Illinois guys and some Arkansas guys, we had some Colorado guys. We even had a guy who drove all the way down from Minnesota, all the way through, that was pretty impressive. And he drove all the way back. Like Carter was saying, the, the weather was much rougher than we anticipated. But ultimately it ended up being kind of fun, we, we got to push ourselves pretty hard. And I think it was a good character building experience for all of us. And then last weekend, I went and interviewed somebody with Carter. Haven't done any promat activism but looking to do that this weekend, we will be doing some stenciling. Us Missouri guys will be taking care of that, so that's all I got for now.

Very good very good. All right, Lawrence Florida.

ND - Lawrence FL 07:24

I flew out to Seattle to go climb Mount Rainier. It went pretty well, all things considered, I [inaudible] I did not eat anything for like four days. I'm just started feeling better as of today actually, I can actually taste food again and not feel constantly horrible. But yeah I still made it to the top of the mountain, still made it out. I also just finished an interview with the pool parties in the area, trying to get involved and see if I can [inaudible] a few more people out [inaudible] activism and see who's around the area. So I met some of them at the NJP event and we talked about, you know, the possibility of doing some networking sometime in the future anyway. Whether this would be fruitful or not is yet to be seen. I'm confident I did well in my interview, so. Yeah that's what I'm up to.

Thomas Rousseau 08:20

Sure thing, all right, Leo Louisiana.

Joseph IL 08:22

Hey, Thomas I hate to interrupt but may I be excused? I feel like I'm about to puke.

Thomas Rousseau 08:27

Okay, feel, feel better? Yeah, you can go if you got to, Leo Louisiana. Maybe it was something you said Lawrence.

ND - Lawrence FL 08:41

Most likely.

Thomas Rousseau 08:43

Alright, Leo, chime in when you can, buddy.

Leo LA 08:46

Okay, yeah, um, activism from the last meeting, I'm not sure if I went on a sticker run or not. I know I was focusing on getting my cardio in for the hike [inaudible] that we did. And before I get to that, I guess I'd say activism for the future, I'll see what the gasoline kind of situation is here, because it's a little scarce now. I have my power back today. And I think a lot more people are getting their power back in the area that I live in. So it should become more available. And I might be making trips down to more like southern Louisiana to help out with my family and the local communities. So I might be able to get some sticker runs and stuff in, I'll try and bring it with me as I'm driving and maybe stop in some towns to place some stickers. But as far as the hike went, I thought my cardio and everything would be good enough. But it could have definitely used some more work or maybe it's because I'm used to like a negative six feet altitude. I was able to make it but I would say barely, so probably need some, some more fitness or I probably need to work on my cardio a little bit more. But that is probably one of the most difficult hikes we could have done. And it was my first hike and I made it, so. I had been invited to the [inaudible], I'm not sure that I can go now, I guess it would depend on what the kind of storm restoration stuff, what's going to happen with that. So, I can't [inaudible], I know Jesse Arkansas really wanted me to go but I'll have to get back to him.

Thomas Rousseau 10:43

Yeah, sure. Just, uh, just let us know. And if there's anything we can do to make it more accommodating, or to help you out at all, because you know, the storm stuff is crazy. Let us know because we will do that. Just stay safe and you know, take care of your stuff. You know, the ending hurdle to the last trip wasn't the most convenient. So, you know, nobody's uh, nobody would critique your dedication. Alright, alright.

Leo LA 11:11

I'll also say, um, since I'm the only one in my area, that was the first time I was able to do some stenciling.

Thomas Rousseau 11:19

Yeah, no, no, [inaudible]

Leo LA 11:21

I was saying that, yeah, it was a good experience. But yeah, that was it.

Johnny MI (Jon-Paul Struys) 11:28

Ok. Awesome. Yeah.

Thomas Rousseau 11:30

We're looking forward to seeing you again, if it's not in a few weeks then a little bit after that we'll work something out. All right, Marcus Washington.

Marcus WA/ID 11:41

Since last meeting, I have done seven sticker runs, one banner. And I went on the Mount Rainier hike. It was excellent.

Thomas Rousseau 11:50

Tell me something excellent about the hike.

Marcus WA/ID 11:54

Alex Oregon's cooking.

Thomas Rousseau 11:57

There we go. What was the meal? Give me the details.

Marcus WA/ID 12:02

We had some cowboy cooking, some sort of steak, eggs, sausage in a tortilla concoction.

Thomas Rousseau 12:09

Man, I'm hungry already. That sounds wonderful. There you go. Not quite steak, almost. Well, very good. Very good. I hope, I hope it was bearable. Alright, Michael Indiana.

Michael IN 12:28

Since the last meeting, I've been on two sticker runs, and I'm going up to Gerard, Indiana, and Lafayette and we did the George Floyd mural, which was kind of, kind of bittersweet, it got sprayed off about an hour after we did it, or pretty shortly after we did it. But it's making a pretty big, we hit a hornet's nest, basically, but talking to the Michigan guys about doing something later, later this month. I think that's it for now.

Thomas Rousseau 13:05

Very good. I have seen fire departments respond to actual fires slower than they responded to that so you know, definitely hit some sort of nerve there. Alright, Norman Alabama.

13:23

Norman! Let us hear from you, Norman.

Norman AL (Ian Elliott) 13:29

Hey, guys, can you hear me?

Thomas Rousseau 13:31

We can hear you just fine. Go ahead.

Norman AL (Ian Elliott) 13:33

Okay, give me just, I just stepped out of my office. I've got you guys on a headset. So I've been listening this whole time. Really awesome stuff. And this is really good check ins from some people. So I've been getting some really good [inaudible] activism runs on construction sites, which I feel like there's a lot of people who are potentially like-minded working in those areas. That's been rewarding so far, been having been really good leadership from Christopher Alabama in general. Most of my time is spent grinding hours at multiple jobs. And I'm coming up on some martial arts competitions, primarily grappling, I usually spend several hours a day fighting, training, which I love. But I have not yet been to one of the hikes. I'm super pumped about it. I've got all my dates cleared and reserved for anything coming up in the next six months that I've been invited to. I can't wait for that. And let's see, [inaudible]. I think that about covers [inaudible].

Thomas Rousseau 14:39

Awesome to hear, man. Looking forward to seeing you. All right, and we have Mr. 342619, 342619. That is a Washington guy by the name of 342, what's your name, 342? Don Washington? Don Washington. Let me, let me fix your name real quick. 342. There we go.

Don WA 15:08

Mumble was giving me the runaround.

Thomas Rousseau 15:12

Go ahead. Alright Don Washington, go ahead.

Don WA 15:16

Since my interview, since my interview, I've done some sticker runs around a very diverse neighborhood. I also ordered some stencils and stickers. So those should be hopefully on the way soon. And I need to do a little more networking to get together with some of the guys from Washington. Unfortunately, I had to miss, I had a major dental issue come up, teeth snapping. So, yeah, just need to really work on networking with some of the guys and getting together. I'd really love to do a hike. Been working out every day, eating 4000 calories to gain some weight. So trying to move forward and get stronger.

Thomas Rousseau 16:05

Very good. Very good. Keep it up. And, and, you know, good work. Good work on that. All right, Philip Florida. Yes, absolutely.

Philip FL 16:14

Well, I got to use my brand news stickers for another promat run last weekend and it felt great.

Thomas Rousseau 16:25

Very good. Very good. Alright, Randolph.

Randolph IL (Garret Garland) 16:29

Since our last meeting, I think I've done two sticker runs, about two hikes and done at least two interviews along with Carter Missouri.

Thomas Rousseau 16:39

Talk a little bit about your experience on the hike. Yeah, go. Go ahead.

Randolph IL (Garret Garland) 16:42

Yeah, the Midwest hike was like Kyle said, a good character and bond building experience, especially with the monsoon we had. But I'd say Carter's chili at the end made it all worth it. And the Colorado hike, all I'll say about that is if you're not used to high altitude, definitely, maybe try to bring some oxygen with you. We could've used more of that. But otherwise, if you find yourself hungry on top of a mountain, don't try to eat a can of soup, just stick with a protein bar or something.

Thomas Rousseau 17:19

Yeah, it's a little bit unwieldy. But yeah, no, Randolph did an amazing job on the hike, we're very happy to have him, I was very happy to get to spend a lot of time with, with him, having not gotten the chance to do so before. So yes, very wonderful. Thanks for making it to both the hikes and doing excellently on both ends. It's truly a shared experience, you know, it's not just going up a mountain, it's a, it's a shared experience and a shared accomplishment with everybody because it's a team effort, because we're not, you know, just out there with our you know, athleisure wear and, you know, all of our hiking poles, just going up there to take Instagram photos like the girls in booty shorts, right. You know, we're doing it as a group of guys of, you know, varying backgrounds, varying experience levels, and our, all of our strengths are our, you know, you know, helping out all of our respective, you know, blind spots, you know, and it adds a whole new layer of complexity but also a whole new layer of accomplishment. So very good to have you, Randolph, looking forward to seeing you again next time. Whenever that is. Alright, Sean Kansas.

Sean KS 18:27

All right, you caught me right in the middle of a cycle so I can actually talk. I was on the hike, it went really well, actually ended up giving the speech because our previous guy who signed up for that didn't make it. I was the one talking so I don't know how well it went, but everyone else seemed to like it. And other than that, last week, I've been doing stickering obviously, once a week at minimum, and then this past weekend I got together with Mark, with Mark Missouri and we put together some banners, which are going to be dropping sometime in the near future.

Very good. Very good. Definitely looking forward to that. Alright, Tyler South Dakota. New guy.

Tyler SD (Riley Johnson) 19:12

That's right. Since initiation, I, well, Johnny and Sam were nice enough to meet me at a at a location that is definitely not near them. So it was very kind of them to do that. And we went out on a promat run and then they were also nice enough to part me with some promat. Since then, I did an initial run which failed miserably because I didn't read the, the spec, picture spec close enough. That's on me. And so I went back to subsequent run at a few extra spots. So that was kind of the silver lining out of that. And then I had a few spots at our local bike trail. And I'm hoping to cover that a little better as time goes on. Otherwise, I've generally been keeping up, I was sick recently and getting off of that I want to get back into working out again. So that's been going well, otherwise want to get really seriously into biking again, because a little known tip, I suppose, maybe it's little known to me, but, you know, working your legs ups your qi, so, you know, I can, not that I need any more of that, but, could use all the help I can get I suppose.

Yeah, absolutely man, really happy to, happy to have you working and, and looking forward to seeing more stuff in the South Dakota area, you know, with, with areas that you know, that are, that are, you know, more sparsely populated like that, you know, it can be a longer period of time between, you know, when we get new applicants and people that, you know, that make it through the process. But that, all that means is that it's just more and more about sticking around and working with guys, you know, organization's, you know, been around a long time, it's not going anywhere, right. So it's just a matter of time. And it's just a matter of, you know, taking your efforts and distributing them over that time. And then you have a 100% chance of success. So, good luck. Looking forward to seeing more from you. Keep at it. Last but certainly not least, Vincent Washington.

21:06

Hey, everyone, since last Thursday, I was on the Mount Rainier hike, which was fantastic.

21:12

I also have two smaller banners in my possession.

21:15

And I've scouted a couple of locations for those in the greater Seattle area, which only one of which we'll do because I'm also planning with Charles, for some activism up in northern Washington for this weekend.

21:26

Otherwise, I'm training for the next hike, which I, I suspect but don't know that it might be higher elevation.

21:33

So I'm just taking it seriously. I'm getting my cardio up.

Thomas Rousseau 21:37

Very good. Very good. Looking forward to that. Absolutely. All right. Is there anybody we missed that connected late perhaps?

21:44

Me?

Thomas Rousseau 21:46

Alright, so we will now transfer over to a, an open forum segment where people can voice their comments, questions, concerns, suggestions, ideas, after a one and a half minute intermission while everybody prepares their appropriate comments, questions, concerns, suggestions, ideas. Excuse me, just one moment.

Alan MI 22:09

Who was it that mentioned Bitcoin earlier?

22:15

It was Joseph MS.

Alan MI 22:17

Okay. That's who I thought it was, just wanted to check.

Johnny ID 22:26

By the way, just a quick question. So with all the Washington guys who aren't necessarily close to Montana, are any of you actually just wanting to go the extra mile and come with us? Or...

22:42

Are you asking if any of us would be up for a road trip?

Johnny ID 22:46

Yeah, if any, if any of y'all are up for a road trip?

ND - Lawrence FL 22:52

Probably'd be a good question for the Spokane crew. George? Marcus?

Marcus WA/ID 22:56

Maybe.

22:58

Oh, yeah.

22:58

Well, I'm already accounted in the group of people that's just going to be there. So...

23:02

Yeah, I expect George and Marcus to be there.

23:04

They don't really have an excuse.

ND - Lawrence FL 23:08

Perfect.

23:12

Besides Montana is really nice state anyway, so it's, you know, it's no big deal just to go there.

ND - Lawrence FL 23:20

I'm looking forward to this, you have no idea how much.

23:25

To the Montana thing?

ND - Lawrence FL 23:27

Oh, yeah.

Thomas Rousseau 23:31

And we are back. So let's get going. And let's knock this meeting out of the park. Um, so any final comments, questions, concerns, suggestions, ideas?

Johnny ID 23:40

So a question about the food run. So, it's strictly peaches?

Thomas Rousseau 23:48

However, you want to interpret the analogy to make sure that you have those 72 hour, that 72 hour window available, and that you are open to, to plans and corresponding travel information that will be delivered to you at an appropriate time. Yes, just assume whatever. How's that sound?

ND - Lawrence FL 24:07

Hey, Thomas.

Thomas Rousseau 24:09

Go ahead, Lawrence.

ND - Lawrence FL 24:11

If I show up on the day of the fourth and realize it's not a food run and you technically used code language, does that mean you have to suspend yourself for an allotted time?

Thomas Rousseau 24:19

Negative, it doesn't, because there is going to be some amount of peaches delivered. No matter what, no matter what. Alright, comments, questions, concerns, suggestions, ideas.

Sean KS 24:32

I had a comment.

Thomas Rousseau 24:34

Okay, go ahead.

Sean KS 24:35

Or a suggestion. We actually had some copies of your pamphlet at the, at the Midwest hike, which we read from, and they were quite inspiring us, I think in particular that bit about integrity instead of optics. And it seems to me that given the current situation, there might be a, it might be ideal to, as the word, take attack in a new promat direction to more accurately and directly address the issues which are facing the nation.

Thomas Rousseau 25:15

So, the perspective of our slogans in graphics on the promotional materials are meant to be short, recognizable, immediately rememberable. And they're also meant to be consistent. And the point of the pieces of promotional material is to advertise the organization's location, and also basic ideas about its beliefs. And that is done with each of the slogans that represent one of our core ideals. And the wonderful things about our promotional material is they are so timeless and consistent. We do not need to change them out. Whenever things about political nature changes, which makes our message more robust. It makes it more consistent, and an assumption that our message is the way it is because we are afraid of being called nasty names, or because we're worried that someone might say Jew this or Jew that, is incorrect, our message is built with a very conscious intent to have the content that it does. Is there anything else I can help explain about this? I

Sean KS 26:44

I think that explains your position quite well.

Thomas Rousseau 26:52

Is, are there any other thoughts you have on this topic?

Sean KS 26:56

Well, that, I happen to know, quite a lot of [inaudible], we're working on building out the Kansas region further, I happen to know a lot of people who have a poor perception of Patriot Front on account of that. If you follow what I mean.

Thomas Rousseau 27:07

What do you mean by that? I don't know what you mean. What do you mean by that?

Sean KS 27:12

People, I know a lot of them, some of them are good friends of mine, who think the Patriot Front is just groypers with better graphic design. And I say that advisedly. But I know people who think like that, and people who would otherwise make great members, but don't think Patriot Front is a good organization.

Thomas Rousseau 27:29

Can they think of that after, you know, reading the manifesto, listening to the speeches perusing the website, they do all that and they still think that we're just Trump supporters?

Sean KS 27:46

I didn't say Trump supporters, but they think, I suppose they have a certain, they perceive it as being reactionary, and moderate. And not a revolutionary patriotic organization which recognizes who our enemies are and what, that they ought to be opposed.

Thomas Rousseau 28:10

Gotcha. So specifically, we use the word revolutionary quite, quite frequently in our speeches and such. So is this just because our stuff doesn't talk about like Jews or black people like directly like, or like by name? Isn't that what they're talking about? If it is, like, it's fine, you can say that, I'm not gonna be offended.

Sean KS 28:31

Well, that's exactly the point. And that does suggest certainly, you know, if it was a different organization, like let's say, take, uh, well, yeah, that's the long and short of it is people who otherwise would be, would approve of Patriot Front, don't, because of that exact reason. They perceive it as being optical, if you like.

Thomas Rousseau 28:53

Here's the thing, right? Our message is about two primary things. One, ourselves, and the group, we seek to make our target demographic, both in ideal and logistical function, which is the nation, and then it is our moral stances and convictions which outline that demographic, and also what we deem as good and bad, right? And the wonderful thing about our more universal moral fixture is that if I say doing X is bad, it is bad if a Jew does it, and it is bad if a non-Jew does it. So if they want to find out if I think that a Jew was bad for doing X, they just have to find out if I think X is bad, because we do not morally exempt Jews or blacks or transgender people or cops or whoever, from doing something based on their status, because we have a stringent rigid moral fixture to our message. And in terms of our manifesto and our message, we don't state all of these things verbatim. Because at once it is not necessary due to our universal moral fixture. But at once, it is also important, because our message is not chiefly about them. Everyone talks about black people, and everyone talks about gay people. And everyone talks about these imagined, you know, oppressed, downtrodden, impoverished, you know, however much validity there may be to that, in any circumstance, everybody's talking about everybody who isn't us. And if we turn our gaze and start talking about everybody who isn't us, we are adding to that trend. And we lose sight of the positive aspects which we are chiefly capable of organizing around. It is very difficult for us to tangibly impact the grand efforts of massive countrywide or global institutions, not saying we do not wish to and not saying we don't. But that is a scale beyond our current logistical capabilities. However, that isn't, that is in the, the negative the oppositional sense, which is, of course, morally justified, where it is applicable. But in the positive sense, we have a great deal of easily accessible opportunity in organizing around those who are willing, who are able to be improved, to be worked with and to be mobilized and made active. So that is why a lot of our message, nearly all of it, revolves around us and who we are, because everyone else is already everyone else, and they know who they are. But we want to show people who we are, and what we believe. And we take this stringent moral fixture, and it is a lens through which you can look at the entire world. So I don't need to lay out X is wrong for XYZ people, I can just lay out X is wrong. And you can apply it to YZ people, if it is applicable to them. Does that help?

Sean KS 32:30

It helps explain your position very well. And it was very carefully worded.

Thomas Rousseau 32:35

Well, it's what I believe, so.

ND - Lawrence FL 32:37

Sorry to interrupt. Daniel Georgia needs verification.

Oh, sure. One moment. All right. Daniel is verified. What was that Lawrence?

ND - Lawrence FL 32:48

I guess we were on this topic, another good question to bring up is like, you know, sometimes, um, I know myself in the past, I was like this too, less so now because I think I understand how and why we do things a bit better. But um, you know, sometimes I think people get, it's also a little related to the, Mr. whoever it was, Sean Kansas was saying, maybe I'm, maybe I'm wrong. But sometimes people when they, you know, when we say we're revolutionary, they don't see, oh they're not actively planning Turner Diaries, you know, type activities, or they aren't explicitly saying, yes, we're going to be like the Turner Diaries. And so because of that reason, well, we're not, exactly but because that reason it's like, well, we how could it be revolutionary. How could, how can you be revolutionary organization if [inaudible]

Thomas Rousseau 33:37

Revolution is a principle, not a tactic.

ND - Lawrence FL 33:41

Well, there you go. That answers the question.

ND - Carter MO (Luke Paule) 33:43

I'd like to, uh, say something.

Thomas Rousseau 33:46

Who's this? Graham? Sounds like Graham. Carter? Sorry. Go ahead.

ND - Carter MO (Luke Paule) 33:49

Yeah. Sean, you know, if your friends were at Philadelphia, you would have no doubt about what we are.

Thomas Rousseau 33:57

Yeah, and, you know, another big thing is, because of the movement dynamic, a lot of these people have been very included or immersed in it for a very long time. And there's a, there's sometimes some misplaced priority, because people aren't used to an organization like ours, we are certainly unconventional in our function and in our, you know, method of operation. And a lot of people are used to how organizations maybe used operate in the 90s, you know, where a lot of like the, you know, the foundational, you know, kind of white nationalist lingo and, and, you know, proto-memes, if you want to call it that, were settled. But we are a very new generation of operation, and people sometimes place in the sense of optics, you know, are almost arguing in on the other side of optics, but still kind of a part of the same you know, as part of the same disinterest, will prioritize the existence of certain phrases or buzzwords over the actual presence of the proper ideals or convictions, where someone might not be explaining something exactly like you are familiar with, so you don't like them, but they actually have the correct beliefs and a proper moral mindset. So we don't use the language that a lot of people use, we have our own revolutionary dialogue. And we have our rules for our message that we stick to, because having rules about our beliefs and their presentation over a pretty long period of time now, and those being consistent, lends us credibility. Because the last thing people want in an organization is something which appears to be unstable or shifting. So obviously, that is not the case. But nobody's accusing us of that, at least not in in this context. So that should also be known that because we don't use certain, you know, buzzwords, or call out certain specific things, whether that's using certain phrases, or names of groups, or individuals, or even slurs, right, doesn't actually mean that we don't have certain moral fixtures, it might mean in some cases, depending on the phrase, but our message is unique. And sometimes people are not used to that. But if they are of an open mind, which of course anybody with these beliefs should be, because that's how you get there, they should really look at what we say, and more so what we do, and they should really make an honest judgment about us in our own right, and not necessarily in comparison to anything else, or anyone else. So that's what I would say, any final topics on this before we move on?

Alan MI 36:57

If I could add to that, because I've had this discussion with other people. And I've seen this criticism of PF. And I think that, um, maybe 10% of the time, this criticism is made, it's actually made in good faith. And I think that 10% of the time, it's useful to address it, but 90% of the time, in my experience, it's an excuse or cope for not being involved. But when it comes to that 10% of the time where it is a genuine like, concern, I think that there's two main avenues to responding to it. And the first one, as Thomas alluded to earlier, they need to watch the videos, they need to read the manifesto, and kind of pay attention when watching the videos to the speeches being made, because that will articulate the position beyond just, we're America, patriots, or whatever, more extensively. As well as, the second point is that, um, many people in the movement will make this assumption that if it doesn't look like the NSDAP [inaudible], right, it's not in our interest. And that's a silly, I think it's a good thing to make the point that fascism displays itself or manifests itself in different ways in different nations, and therefore the American nation's representation of its national interests might be different than other [inaudible] Germans, and that's fine. And that doesn't invalidate either of the ways of doing it. I think that's a good thing to point to make.

Thomas Rousseau 38:14

Interesting, interesting, interesting comments. Was that Alan?

Alan MI 38:19

Uh yes, that was me.

Thomas Rousseau 38:20

Cool. Alan. Alright. Go ahead, Sean.

Sean KS 38:22

So I suppose yeah, I should just tell my friends, I suppose that Patriot Front is opposed to Jewish control of the United States, we're just not big on talking about it much.

38:33

[Laughter]

Thomas Rousseau 38:33

That's not even necessarily, uh, correct. So obviously, I am opposed to control of the United States where it is against our national interest. And yeah, Jews are definitely involved in, you know, institutions and government. And they definitely, you know, a lot of the, a lot of the people doing things that I'm very much morally against are Jewish. And in some cases, that might be a coincidence, in another case, it's probably not. And I've actually spoken about this before [inaudible] podcast, and you can send them a link. I'm sure someone can pick it up and send it to you.

Sean KS 39:10

I believe it was with the old NRM thing. I've heard it before.

Thomas Rousseau 39:14

Not that old in the grand scheme of things, but yeah, I mean, anytime I've ever been asked this question, I give the same answer, you know, and we openly state what we are against in regards to the existence of the United States as it stands. And if Jews are involved, if it's not like, you know, we're conservatives where we say, oh, we don't like the government, because it's doing X and someone says, oh, well, Jews are actually involved in the government, and we say, oh, my God, right, I would never. No, we don't say that. Because we place our morality above optics, right? We place our integrity before optics. So we say yes, I am still against it X, Y and Z because that is what my moral convictions demand. But we are all even less reactionary in that context. Because our morals don't change based on, you know, what kind of people are committing the actions. And certainly it is a, it's a very, very diverse country. So there's obviously lots of a whole multitude of ethnicities and ideologies, which are committing all sorts of morally detestable actions across the continent. So we should be flexible in order to appropriately judge them all morally, correctly. So yes, I am not interested in using certain, you know, phrases or messaging tactics that have been prevalent in organizations of the past, because we are describing them as organizations of the past, they are not with us anymore. And I believe they are not with us anymore, due to one of many reasons, that their messaging was oppositional moreso than it was positive, their messaging took a very opportunistic space and turned it into something to be given to those who detest us and those who oppose us, as opposed to perhaps those who seek our interests, those who seek to build and to improve as we do. So that's what I say. And I think we should wrap up this discussion on that note, and if anybody would like to talk to me about this anymore, they should stick around after the meeting. And I'll see if I have time, I have a few other calls lined up. But, you know, I'm usually on Mumble until nobody wants to talk to me anymore. So there we go. Moving on, comments, questions, concerns, suggestions, ideas, let's do a few more, because that took up, a few more, because that took up a little bit longer time than they usually do. Go ahead, anybody.

I've actually got an idea, this may already be kind of [inaudible] talking about like fitness standards, and so on and so forth. But something that's simultaneously a lot of fun, build a lot of brotherhood is completely applicable to stuff that we're doing. And I think it's, some of it's already kind of being designed. But if we have a system that's basically like specific goals, you know, you're a member, you should be able to run this distance and this time are our complete, you know, we just basic fitness stuff that you can have these tasks out there that are rewarded with, it could be something simple, like, like a patch, or flag or whatever it might be. But simple stuff like that can get people together, especially when there's just young men getting together and they're active. They're doing fitness, they're doing things that require fitness, and especially when we gather on hikes and whatnot, where there can be, you know, good hearted competition, to push each other further, stay healthy and stay happy about it, that sort of thing is too much fun. [Inaudible] and I'd gladly volunteer to help out in any way shape or form to organize stuff like that, and set standards that we think are applicable to the needs of the group.

Thomas Rousseau 42:53

Very interesting. I will keep that in mind. Absolutely. It's a great idea. All right. Anything else comments, questions, concerns, suggestions, ideas? Let's do one or two more.

Ethan WA (Justin O'Leary) 43:03

Yeah, I was kind of thinking along the same lines, like he was just saying, and then, you could also have like multiple tiers like a base level standard or other standards to work up to and then I was also thinking like almost kind of like a CrossFit Games way like a Patriot Front games. I don't know. Maybe you could like, you know, yeah, you could do MMA competitions, boxing competitions, weightlifting, you know, sprinting mile run times, you know, someone could do online, obviously, fighting you'd have to do in person, but I think that would make for some good content.

Thomas Rousseau 43:35

You don't have to do it in person. I've seen so many people fight over the internet, you wouldn't believe.

43:39

[Laughter]

Thomas Rousseau 43:41

No, absolutely. And these, these are ideas that, you know, no offense to you guys, they're good, but they're not necessarily the most original, we've heard these things. And definitely, I know, I'm definitely in favor of this stuff, I think this would be great. I want to incorporate a lot more fitness activities into our small group meetups and our large group meetups, these hikes are a big part of that. Because, you know, you find out a whole lot about your fitness level when you get up to about you know, 13, 14,000 feet, or when you've been hiking for, you know, over a dozen miles, right? And what we can do, or what we're planning on doing is, you know, using these big events as benchmarks to judge where people at and we are, you know, you know, not not in a bad way but we're singling people out, you know, who have issues and need more help and we're going to be including them into a different you know, a different kind of support group for that and and there's other plans in place. But uh, you know, the, the big thing is we are making progress towards this finally, and, and it is going to be done and it's going to be done well. And definitely, once we have a fairly solid majority of the membership meeting the standards that will be in place, then we will have additional confidence in people taking their fitness into new heights, with, they can specify into different, you know, different, you know, things like whether they're martial arts or other specific skills, once they have that base level built, and we'll have a much larger pool of activists of a much more physically competent level that we can then kind of swing on at all these different competitions or local activities, challenges, rewards, initiatives, you know, etc. So, um, so definitely, I like those ideas. But you know, right now, it's just about getting everybody up to that strong, strong base level. You know, because, as you know, especially with our hike, something I emphasize, we're only as fast as the slowest guy, right? Because we got to stick together, same principle for an organization, right? When we're doing our marches, right, we don't leave anybody behind. So it's about our collective, um, fitness level. So that's, that's what we're prioritizing right now. And then we can get into the extra fun stuff. So that's, that's the, that's the dessert for after we've had our main course. Um. Anyways, comments, questions, concerns, suggestions, ideas? Let's do this next last one, go ahead Johnny.

Johnny MI (Jon-Paul Struys) 46:02

[Inaudible] Thank you so much, uh. So what I was gonna say was, I say this all the time to my local group, um, that, I'm, I'm getting to be an old man now, going past, in my 30s. Um. And the thing is, I've been in two different, um, activist organizations, which I've watched a lot because of, of mistakes of the past, um, but, you know, go down. And the thing is, is that I'm not trying to say it's inevitable that organizations go down by any stretch of the imagination. I'm not saying that, you know, bigger political goals, which we'd like to see achieved, um, are not possible. I'm not saying anything like that. However, I am saying that, um, the most important thing that we're doing in it, those of you who are new, and those of you have been in for a while, um, the best, biggest, most important thing that we're doing is building brotherhood. And if tomorrow, um, this organization, and I'm not saying there's any reason for this to happen, but if, you know, things do happen though, and if this organization got stalled, or whatever, and the local, uh, network that you create, the people that you meet, um, in this movement, that is the most important thing that we're doing here. And everything else is just gravy, it's just extra, um, stuff on a Sunday. And the thing is, is that, you know, it would be nice to think, you know, we become PF nation, you know, over time, or this grows into something, you know, much, much bigger than it is now. And I mean, I have every intention of trying to make that a real realization, make it happen. Um. But if you let yourself get, uh, I've met too many people, um, that were, have told me like, well, you know, uh, I was gonna [inaudible] put up all kinds of stickers, and you know, [inaudible] and it's like, that's, that's not the, the, that shouldn't be your driving, uh, mission, it should be the brotherhood, it should be the camaraderie, it should be, um, the, and, and moving, working toward a bigger goal. Um. But I just wanted to say that, so. Thank you.

Thomas Rousseau 48:08

Sure, and, and let me, let me touch on that. So, the objective of the organization is not so stringently defined as maybe conventional parties and such where they're trying to implement policy and stuff, I am often very critical of the phrase "the movement" in stuff like that, you hear me say it in funny voices, you hear, you see me put it in quotations, because I recognize that the most important aspect of a movement is to be going somewhere, right, is to be moving. And right now, we are an organization, right? We have rules, we have structure, we have direct, verbal initiative. But eventually, you know, obviously, the organization should persist by all our means, and by all our spirits, but what we can do and what we have every opportunity of doing, is establishing around and with the organization as the core, a movement all our own, where we can impact the lives of men, and the, we can impact the lives of men and the common dialogue and perception of culture, such that what Patriot Front is, what it believes, its motifs, its imagery, its style of conduct, and things that we exalt, the things that we idealize, grow beyond us, to those who may not even have any direct connection to the organization, but nonetheless, embody it and through that [inaudible] larger affiliation we can [inaudible].

Norman AL (Ian Elliott) 50:02

I've been around a lot of different groups, I've been in a lot of different organizations, and it's just relentlessly positive views that people have about our group now. I know we probably get some criticism too, but just over on my end, it's been guys of all different ages that have had different backgrounds, that've had a lot of positive to say about what you, what you're doing, what what we're doing, and how things are going.

Thomas Rousseau 50:25

For sure, so just to finish up my point there, what we do goes beyond ourselves, and our goal is to further and uphold the organization, but also immortalize it in its impact on culture. Because, you know, historical precedent, you know, the Sons of Liberty do not exist anymore, you know, but the, you know, the, their cultural impact lasted for generations, you know, the organization is [inaudible] pool, and we should use it for as long as it as it is appropriate. But at the same time, we are also engaging in a battle of scope and culture that is far beyond what the organizational structure itself contains. Right. So, think about that, definitely go read 'Why Activism' again, everybody. Alright. So, thank you for that, we will wrap up the meeting now, because I have some planning calls to get some of those events that y'all and I are going to all planned out, all wonderful, to make sure that everybody's bringing their cans of peaches. So thank you so much, everybody. I will talk to you later. Good luck. Good night, and goodbye. And make sure to stick around if you want to chat about anything else. And make sure to always message me any wonderful questions you have. We had a great discussion here. And, you know, so many times people have issues and stuff. And it's just because they could have asked me and we could have gotten through it. And we can solve the problem, whether it's logistical, whether it's ideological, whether it's tactical, whether it's personal, I don't know. But the wonderful thing about it is communication, right? We got the wonder of technology, anybody can message me anytime and I will get back to it. I have a really crazy sleep schedule, so you do not need to delay because I will get back to you. Anyways, thank you again. One more time. Good luck. Good night. Goodbye, everyone. Have a nice night. [Inaudible]

52:17

Good night, guys.

Johnny MI (Jon-Paul Struys) 52:18

Good night, gentlemen.

52:26

But yeah, Sean Kansas, is your friend...?

Robot Voice 52:31

You joined #general.

52:33

... [inaudible] like, they're obsessed with Jews, and it's not oh my God it's not a Turner Diaries therefore it can't be effective?

Sean KS 52:40

No, not as such. It's, it's more of uh, they don't think Patriot Front, Patriot Front doesn't seem to acknowledge the Jews exist at all, and...

52:51

There's two things I would, uh, like, if I were you, I would, I would ask them.

52:56

The first being well, we're not asking, but tell them, ever, one, being that every single person in this organization knows, I haven't met a single person here who doesn't know the JQ, literally every one here does.

53:09

It's like, it's not like a thing that, like, we don't let in like MAGA boomers or like, [inaudible] the Democrats, like everyone knows.

53:17

You wanna tell em that like, that would probably ease their worries a bit.

53:21

The second thing I would say, it's probably like, it just flat out like, looks retarded to do that, like head on, like, compare PF's professional presentation to like, Goyim Defense League, is my favorite example.

53:36

Like Goyim TV.

53:37

They go around Miami with signs that say 'Jews suck baby penis' with these really ugly, like, happy merchant face masks.

53:44

And they act like jackasses and stuff and like they have a, they have markers scribbled over a van that says like, the Holocaust is fake.

53:51

And like, like, yeah, sure you can say based, [inaudible].

53:54

Yeah, they say stuff like that. Like, but like, they look retarded.

53:59

That's the thing. It's like, yes, it's all true, but they look retarded. Like, that's like...

Sean KS 54:04

Seems, that seem incredibly disingenuous to me to say that the only way to directly address the Jewish question is in that manner, because it's possible to do it using our tactics and our professional approach. That's...

54:20

Well I'm not, I'm not done.

54:21

I was also gonna say like that, like Thomas said this pretty well in that, like, when you operate like that, you're like, you're kind of feeding into the crazy like, mouth foaming like, Nazi. like, stereotype that they have, where it's like, what is your ideology? I hate Jews.

54:42

Okay, and what is your, what is your worldview? I'm a Nazi.

54:46

Can you explain Nazism? It's when you hate Jews, okay?

54:49

It's like, that, that, like, it's like that kind of stuff.

54:52

Like, what, like, what Thomas was kind of getting at, I guess, in layman's term was, would be like, with our, like our manifesto and the 'Why Activism' pamphlet and stuff it's like, rather than focus, like, if you need like, propaganda, we don't even need propaganda, like, as far as like ourselves and why we dislike our enemies, it's like, you just have to look at the world around you and [inaudible] storytime and all that.

55:16

It's like, but like, so it's like, we don't need to constantly remind ourselves and stuff and outlet like, but for the org itself, it's like a, it's like a mantra of self, like, exemplification I guess.

55:31

You know, it's like, that, like, like, take, for instance, like, instance, like, the propaganda of America in World War Two, where it was like, we are this big, strong thing and we can do this, you know, it's like, that lifted people up rather than like, like, like, if you can build people up through like, like, to be strong through a message like that. I guess.

55:51

I'm paraphrasing, like, really hard. Sorry, Lawrence.

ND - Lawrence FL 55:55

Oh, yeah, they're, just some, to sum up what I think he's trying to get at is, we gotta look beyond Jews. That's what sums it up. It's like yeah, you can be, everyone on here knows that, it's, the Jewish question is true. But even if Jews were like, more or less be gone tomorrow, okay, you know, the treatment that they've done to this country would still be bad whether Jews did it or not. You could have total, you know, Americans, you know, blooded Americans treating America, this, the way Jews have treated it, and we'd still be opposed to it. We got to look beyond Jews, because it isn't just Jews that are doing these things. There's plenty of Shabbos goys. And there's gonna be plenty of Shabbos goys, even in the ethnostate, that are going to use and abuse, you know, their countrymen. I think that's how you could phrase it [inaudible] better [inaudible].

56:46

So that's actually a, that's, that's an aspect of it that I didn't consider too, is like, America has been so incredibly demoralized that seriously, people will believe unironically that white people, let alone American white people, have no culture.

56:59

And like, that they have no like, history.

57:01

And it's like, how, like, like, even if all Jews like disappeared in a blink of an eye tomorrow, you would still have a bunch of white people all over the country that don't understand their American roots, or like, like, what?

57:14

It's not even the Jewish question realistically, [inaudible]

57:17

What was that, Brian?

57:21

Oh I was saying, I was saying its not even the Jewish question.

57:24

Because it's like, the biggest thing that as a whole of like, fascists or NatSocs, however you wanna describe yourself, is that, like, we get so wrapped up like, having, like nogs and Jews live rent-free in your head, for like, 24/7, 365.

57:45

And as a whole, we don't even focus on ourselves.

57:49

Because exactly what you're saying is like, we need like, kind of like, you know how you that patrol, you need to fucking white patrol, like, you need to fucking bully people and like, stand up for your culture, and like, do it.

58:00

Because, like, in all honesty, I personally, I really don't care about Jews or nogs.

58:06

Like, I'd rather just focus on myself and my own people, because at the end, they, we're the only ones gonna make the change for people in, people in our community.

58:15

So it's like, because no one else is going to do for us like, oh, wow, like, let's just deport all the nogs and the Jews, like, that's not going to resolve the problems.

58:25

The problem, the problems are like, internal.

58:28

So you need to fix that as well.

58:30

And like, not you. You know what I'm saying.

Sean KS 58:33

I know what you're trying to say, I just fundamentally disagree, because we need to deal with our enemies, the ones who are inflicting this injury upon us and are continuing to do so. Sure, all our problems wouldn't disappear tomorrow if all the, if all the, all of them disappeared, but it would be a very good flipping start.

58:59

But, but here's the, here's the thing, is like, I'm not discounting anybody's work at all whatsoever.

59:05

But the thing is, is there's only so many like, silver tongued orators that you can list on a daily basis, and most of the time.

59:15

And so what I'm getting at is that like, if someone's struggling, like your, say, your neighbor who's white, and they don't have a job, are we just gonna like, watch speeches on Telegram and like, read about the Jews and the nogs and say, hurrah, let's get rid of them, or no, are you going to help a buddy out?

59:34

Are you gonna help put food on his table?

59:36

Are you going to help him get a job or like help him get [inaudible]?

Sean KS 59:38

Those aren't mutually exclusive. We can help our buddy and also oppose the people who did that to him.

ND - Lawrence FL 59:46

To address your question a little more directly, Sean, I think a good way to put it is like consider what all the Roman, the, if you ask any Roman, any significant Roman author of the past what was the decline of Rome, or caused the decline of Rome, more often than not they're going to say it was moral decline is what started at all. Yes, obviously there are, we do have enemies and there are barbarians within the gates, but had we not have declined morally and spiritually first, they would have never been allowed to get inside to begin with, enemies are merely a symptom of the problem. And that's not to say that, you know, they are not, or that we can ignore that and then, or do tons of total like, you know, self improvement and they'll just go away. However, doing the self improvement and the things and those sorts of things will give us the opportunities to then remove the rest of the parasites after you know, we've made ourselves strong in spirit, ironically enough, but you know, it doesn't seem like it connects but it does. Does that answer a little bit more directly?

Sean KS 1:00:47

It expounds the viewpoint very correctly but it's still wrong. We need to cure, we need to cure the disease, not the symptoms.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:00:55

Sean, Sean.

Matthew MN 1:00:57

Well then, we should put like swastikas on our promat?

ND - Lawrence FL 1:01:01

Hang on, Sean, why did you join Patriot Front?

Sean KS 1:01:05

To help America, obviously, and to feel brotherhood with my fellow Americans.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:01:14

Did you believe in the message? Do you, I mean, do you believe in the message?

Sean KS 1:01:19

Yes. I believe in the message. I think the message should be expounded better, best way to put it.

1:01:27

Okay.

Randolph IL (Garret Garland) 1:01:30

Sean, have you been? I don't think you have, have you been on a march like I-day's march yet? Like Philly?

Sean KS 1:01:37

No, I was at Charlottesville. But that was a long time ago.

Randolph IL (Garret Garland) 1:01:40

Yeah. I would highly recommend waiting until you're on one of those before expounding this opinion further.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:01:48

Well, I don't think, it's not a bad criticism. I mean, it's okay to have these, you know, to have the discussion.

1:01:53

It's valid, even I've thought that at one point. But.

1:01:55

Me too.

1:01:57

It's like, like, I, like, I totally get it.

1:02:00

I thought the same thing. It's like, it was like, why not just attack it directly?

1:02:04

It's because like, well, you know, it's like, I don't know.

Christopher AL 1:02:11

The main thing is introducing, you know, you know, your family member, or your close friend to the JQ. I mean, are you gonna throw them in the deep end? Or just give them a trail of breadcrumbs?

ND - Lawrence FL 1:02:21

It's not even that, it's like, consider the following. Why would I go down a big list of, it's the Jews, it's the blacks, it's the trannys, it's the cops, it's the fags, it's the, I could just say it's the system. Because all these things, when I say, when I use the word, it's the system, it's an all encompassing term. And sure, maybe not everyone's gonna immediately get that, at the same time, it doesn't, it's, it's far simpler. It gets the same message across. And it's still consistent with beliefs, I think that's the best way I can sum up this idea.

Christopher AL 1:02:54

Sometimes with just a little nudge in the right direction people will find out on their own.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:02:58

Yeah, and it's like, we can we can harp on about, you know, just the blacks or just the Jews or whatever. But at the end of the day, it's all those things.

Christopher AL 1:03:09

I mean, if you if we just went "Jew, Jew, Jew, Jew", everyone's walls go up. And then we'd fizzle out in a year.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:03:16

It wouldn't even be that, we're not appealing to normies, we're appealing to our own guys. You know, I think, within the movement, like when Thomas is talking about how we have our own revolutionary, you know, vocabulary and way of thinking and talking. I think that's why it can feel confusing. That's why it's new. Because what we are presenting is new, it's universal. It's not the old guard way of, it's the Jews, it's the blacks, it's the trannys, and just the blah, blah, blah, blah, blah, 50 million things, 50 million complaints, you know, you can quickly sum it up as, "it's the system", and then redirect the focus back on, let's make this about us and the positive things about what America is, and define 'American'.

1:03:51

Exactly.

1:03:52

One common misconception about the organization that a lot of people have as well is that our goal is to try and appeal to normies, and Thomas is very explicit in the fact that our goal is turn nationalists into activists, like how many people do we have with our viewpoints that shitpost on Telegram all day, and can't be bothered to put up a fucking sticker? How many?

ND - Lawrence FL 1:04:21

Too many.

1:04:22

Something else too that I was struggling to find the words to phrase that was like, it's, it's like the biggest part of this like, what, um was being said about like the true like, white question beyond the Jewish question was like, the, we have to rekindle the American spirit.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:04:37

Because it's been like, lost to time with all the demoralization and brainwashing.

1:04:42

Yes.

1:04:44

Our image is successful for a reason.

1:04:46

The direct approach has not worked for a reason.

1:04:49

You know, Thomas understands this.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:04:53

Well, it's because people generally don't like, um, negativity and the way most people attack things is in a very negative rather than constructive fashion. Exactly.

1:05:04

That too.

1:05:04

Absolutely.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:05:06

Yeah, like, the world's already a negative place, okay. Like, I'll be completely honest, the white nationalist community, I've met some of the worst people in my entire life in this community, I exclude Patriot Front from this, but the Telegram, the 4chan, I, if that was all there was, I would not want to be part of that community. So I don't interact with any channels. I don't interact with any white nationalists outside of this. Because I believe that what I do is work. And I'm serious about my convictions and my goals. And so anything other than work, and anything other than, you know, making the dream happen, isn't my interest. And especially not something I would want to do as a, you know, an angry grudge. And if I was interacting solely with those groups, in a non-work capacity, like on Telegram, whatnot, it wouldn't be enjoyable, it wouldn't be preferable, it wouldn't be a community I would be part of. Because everything we do here, the reason why what we do is preferable, because it is positive, it is good. It is professional, it's serious. So I think that's also an important thing to take into consideration too, and why it's important that we are always positive with our messaging, the, even like, when antifa for example, you'll see them put up those like 'fuck Patriot Front' stickers, or even calling themselves anti-fascists. All you got to do is cover up one word, and it's you know, and it supports us, you know, when you are against something, it's not anywhere near as powerful as being supporting of something. Like the world already understands what quote unquote Nazis dislike, they don't understand what we do like, they don't understand who and what we are. And that's why we need to redefine it and show the positive things and be positive, uplifting, good people on top of that, because that, in turn, will make the world a more positive, uplifting place.

That was pretty good.

1:07:00

Very well said [inaudible].

1:07:01

Yeah. Right, write that shit down Lawrence, that was good.

Matthew MN 1:07:07

Well, Lawrence is gonna be giving some Hitler-level speeches in a few years, guaranteed.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:07:16

Though then again Thomas has been getting pretty spicy with his speeches lately, I really liked it.

Matthew MN 1:07:23

I, I very much enjoy it.

1:07:24

I just want to add a couple things to this real quick, and then I'm gonna bail.

1:07:28

But basically, just to kind of go off of what Lawrence said, I know I'm not on here very much.

1:07:34

I never talk to any of you guys.

1:07:35

But I've been around here enough, long enough.

1:07:39

Um, the same thing I find with the people that, that want us to put swastikas or something like that on our promat.

1:07:50

They're the same fucking losers that are on Telegram, and 4chan, talk, talk, talk, talk, talk, when you look at their, their life, they're failures in just about every area of their life.

1:08:03

So they're not going to do anything, their ideas are just not going to work, they're not going to do anything for us, not going to be a good contributor, typically.

1:08:15

The fact of the matter is that the, the problem we're facing is actually worse than it's the Jews, or the blacks or anything, it is, it's even worse.

1:08:28

So I would, I would recommend that they step back and even look at it from a higher level.

1:08:36

It's worse than the JQ.

1:08:37

So you know, take the next level red pill.

Matthew MN 1:08:45

But yeah, I think the decay of our own people is, uh, the first and foremost issue that needs to be addressed, you know, you can point fingers at Jews all day, but at the same time, there is a group of people that let it happen. And that's us.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:09:02

Uh huh.

1:09:05

And this has been going on for thousands of years.

1:09:08

This is not just an America situation.

1:09:11

This is many thousands of years.

1:09:13

Our culture has been like, subverted in favor of consumerism and like self-, uh, like, prioritization, like, we need, like, something higher to strive for like, you can't just like, you know, consume Marvel product, play video games and masturbate all day.

1:09:29

Like, you know, you got to have like a, like a country and a, like a, like a worldview to believe in that's like, the, like, like, like even like, a lot of people on /pol/ don't really get this.

1:09:41

It's like, yes, you can hate Jews and stuff.

1:09:43

But like then you can also like, most people in there are still very consumerist and stuff, like a lot of people were like, oh, wow, these are the new racist sunglasses that Nick Fuentes wears, I'm gonna buy this, you know, I don't know.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:09:56

[Inaudible] guys, don't buy Vipers for the meme, because if they find out racists, like, any instance of a racist using their products, they donate the cost of the sunglasses to the SPLC.

1:10:07

But yeah, you know what I mean?

ND - Lawrence FL 1:10:09

Not even for the meme, not even for the meme. [Inaudible]. Sean, did you want to talk about anything else, I mean, I hope that kind of clarifies, you don't even necessarily have to like, agree, you can still, you know, just because the whole room said that they think that way doesn't mean you have to. But does that kind of clarify like, what we kind of meant?

1:10:31

And we don't, we don't mean to argue if you were, we're on your side, like, a lot of us, like have thought like the same thing, but, like, myself included.

1:10:38

Well, you know what I mean, Lawrence, but, but there's, we're just explaining like the, the idea, I guess.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:10:49

Yeah and it is kind of hard to understand, getting, especially when it's new, you know, like...

1:10:56

It's a little counter intuitive in some regards.

1:10:59

He can handle it.

1:11:02

Everyone gets it eventually. For the most part. I...

ND - Lawrence FL 1:11:07

It was funny, my ex was like, way ahead of her time in times of like regards to like our messaging and whatnot. I remember back in the day, when we still had the 'deport them all' slogan, and she's like, oh, I don't, I don't like that one. I was like, well why not? And she's like, well, it's so negative. It's, it seems bad. I'm like, well, who cares, like, we don't want Mexicans here? You know, she's like, well, yeah, but like, why don't you say something more positive? Like, send them home? And I was like, nah, the goal is to like recruit guys who are angry. Like, why? Why wouldn't we say it that way? And she's like, okay, well, if you say so, I still don't like it. At the time I didn't get it. But she was right, actually. And that's why we retired that slogan. I mean, that, there's a variety of reasons, first of all being negative, but secondly, um, the idea of, have federal government do something when we are opposed to federal government, that doesn't really make sense, um. But either way...

Oh, was that the old one, like encouraging people to call ICE?

ND - Lawrence FL 1:12:04

Yeah, yeah, the old ICE one. They were funny, and they got a lot of butthurt, you know, from people. But once again, I think it is more important that we show the world that we support what we are for rather than what we are against, because everyone knows what we're against, you know, and that's another thing.

1:12:21

Oh, yeah, it's like the GDL versus Patriot Front, like, who's getting somewhere at the end of the day?

1:12:29

I kind of like, we, like Lawrence and I can attest to that with like, experience because we know a guy who left Patriot Front for the GDL.

1:12:35

And it just didn't, it was, just wasn't a positive thing for him, was a really bad influence.

1:12:39

And they got into a lot of trouble and stuff.

1:12:41

And it was just very trashy.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:12:45

Speaking of which, Logan moved to Tampa. I'm trying to get more [inaudible], yeah, recently. But we can talk about that later. I'm hoping...

1:12:54

Well, I did, I did hear some unfortunate news about him.

1:12:57

I, yeah, I know what you're talking about.

1:13:00

Is he still doing that Vanguard 18 thing?

ND - Lawrence FL 1:13:03

No, no, he's not doing that. That was stupid. I mean, I had just gotten him like, you know, pushed, kicked him in the butt enough to get him enrolled back into school again. And then he moves across the state. I'm like, god, are you serious? Anyway, at the very least, he's out of a job, which means he has more time to invest into going back to school, cause he needs to do that. Hopefully he can get another job again, but, but yeah, at least that gas station job isn't, you know, taking up all his time and it's like totally, like, you know, you know, interfering with his ability to do other stuff. And it's like, dude, do you really want to work at this gas station forever? Or do you want to, like go somewhere in life?

1:13:44

I really miss him. I don't, like, I want him to come back.

1:13:45

He just needs to, like, I guess just improve. He's a good kid.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:13:49

He, okay, if he get himself enrolled in a high school, or whatever type of thing, I'll say he can come back. But he just needs to be enrolled, he needs to show me, he needs proof that he's doing his work. And if he needs help he needs to ask for it, because [inaudible]

1:14:07

Yeah, he just needs to show a little ambition.

ND - Lawrence FL 1:14:10

Yeah, like everyone here is more than capable of helping him with, like his homework or whatever he needs in terms of schooling. You know, like, I've been writing essays my entire life. Like if he needs help with a history paper or an essay, or how to do a citation, okay, like, he's got no excuse. I've got a bachelor's degree. Like that's, that's, the, I went to school for four years to like, get good at writing these papers basically, like, just ask for help if you need it, please. I'll give it away for free. I'm more than happy to help him and anyone in this room actually, if you are doing school still.

1:14:52

Unrelated, I really wish Floyd stuck around because I was hoping to talk about weekend activism.

1:14:59

But I don't know if he'd be up for that.

1:15:01

Yeah, um...

1:15:02

I know Jack, I know Jack can't do it, other than [inaudible].

1:15:08

Let's uh, let everyone else talk in here, we'll, let's go to meeting room 3.

1:15:14

I mean I will just say like, anybody enrolled in like a CS program too, I'll be more than willing to help people with whatever, not the best with math end of it but I do okay with most of the other stuff.

Don WA 1:15:29

Likewise.

1:15:31

Oh, ace, we got another tech bro in here?

Tyler SD (Riley Johnson) 1:15:34

Great, another code monkey.

Matthew MN 1:15:41

Yup, yeah, definitely a very lucrative career opportunity if anybody's looking to get involved with something. One of, one of many lucrative paths.
